Insights

- Vivriti Capital and Northern Arc capital are the existing least financial performer.
- Aditya Birla Capital ranks highest with the strongest financial performance among existing partners.
- Tata Capital, Hero FinCorp, and Bajaj Finserv lead among potential new partners with strong scores.
- Some existing partners, such as Poonawalla Fincorp and L&T Finance, remain competitive despite lower rankings.
- Financial scores indicate lending efficiency and stability but do not determine overall partnership viability.

Disclaimer:

Although other factors such as revenue from commissions, customer satisfaction, and operational efficiency influence overall partnership decisions, this ranking is purely based on financial performance.

Recommendations

1. Strengthening Existing Partnerships

- Focus on enhancing collaboration with top-ranked existing partners like Aditya Birla Capital to maximize financial benefits.
- Negotiate better terms and explore joint marketing campaigns with Poonawalla Fincorp and L&T Finance, as they are existing partners with room for improvement.
- Regularly assess performance and realign with financial goals to ensure long-term sustainability.

2. Expanding to High-Performing New Partners

- Prioritize partnerships with Tata Capital, Hero FinCorp, and Bajaj Finserv, as they have strong financial performance.
- Structure competitive commission models and exclusive deals to attract these potential partners.
- Leverage their market position to enhance Olyv's service offerings and customer reach.

Recommendations

3. Diversifying the NBFC Portfolio

- Ensure a mix of partners that cater to different customer segments, from premium lenders to mass-market financial service providers.
- Collaborate with mid-tier NBFCs like Muthoot Finance and IIFL Finance to offer specialized loan products, such as gold and MSME loans.
- Establish dynamic partnerships where terms can be revised based on ongoing financial performance.

4. Data-Driven Decision Making

- Continuously track partner financial performance using weighted scores and key metrics.
- Develop an AI-based scoring model that includes additional factors like loan disbursement speed, customer service quality, and risk assessment.
- Use predictive analytics to identify upcoming NBFCs that may become strong potential partners.
